build a pavilion with market stalls and secure one acre with a fence was completed in 2022. Phase Two is in progress: Demonstrate proper ways to grow vegetables and fruit trees, use hybrid seed and fertilizer, and make adjustments where needed to prepare for the next phase. Phase three: demonstrate appropriate farming techniques for local farmers and farmer groups. Local farmers will be trained to reimagine ways of producing food and increasing crop yields through modern techniques. With the right infrastructure and education, farmers in Tanzania can grow enough nutritious food to feed their families and communities, preventing hunger and malnutrition and prompting investment in education and in their communities. The Integrated Farming Project (IFP) at Lambo village in Mwanga District: Thirty Lambo farmers participated in a vegetable growing workshop conducted by East-West Knowledge Transfer. The purpose of this project is to leverage East-West knowledge and proven ability to train small holder farmers in Tanzania on best practices in growing vegetables for their own consumption and to supply market needs. They have a proven track record of doing this and are aligned with our core values and Tanzania is a key focus country for them. In Lambo, we started with 23 grain amaranth farmers, 22 dairy goats and 10 goat farmers, and 22 sheep and 10 sheep farmers. Expanding knowledge and offspring to other villagers, we now have 33 grain amaranth farmers and over 50 animals.

Environment: Holistic Rangeland project: The long-term goal of this work is to develop and spread a future-proof rangeland-based land use system, in line with traditional Maasai culture, across Maasai communities in Same and Mwanga Districts. This project is aiming to put the first step towards this long-term goal by developing a "prototype" in a selected community, that can serve as a showcase for others. This long-term project started with a 21-day training for four Masai communities, providing knowledge and experience of the holistic rangeland approach sufficient for the leaders, including their neighbors, to create and commit to a 5-year plan. The plan will include appropriate goals and activities with their neighbors and have full support from the formal administration locally. A joint proposal was developed with Empower Tanzania and the Same District Council to continue this work. Education Programs: The Same Learning Center (SLC) impacted 50 most vulnerable children and their families. Students of the SLC attended twice-weekly after-school meetings and Saturday morning sessions where they received tutoring in English from our staff of English teachers, along with nutritious meals, snacks, and other support services. Empower Tanzania provides each student in the program with a school uniform, shoes, and stationery. We also provide other necessities monthly like soap, shoe polish, toothpaste, oil gel, and menstrual pads. Along with academic tutoring, other life skills like gardening, sports and games, cooking, computers, phone skills, personal hygiene, self-defense techniques, a balanced diet, and mathematics are taught. In addition, we help students struggling with mental health and trauma by giving them the care and assistance they need.

Health Programs / Community Health Network: All health programs focus on providing preventive health education on various topics to the general public, the underserved Maasai community, and primary and secondary schoolchildren. Public Health Education (Improving Women's Health Program): 33 community health educators use specifically prepared videos on 25 preventive health education topics to give presentations to the general population of the political ward in which they live. The presentations include demonstrations, discussion, and implementation ideas. These presentations reach 23,000-25,000 people per month in Same District.

Community-Hospital Alliance Program (CHAP): The 34 community health workers of CHAP continue to present public health education topics to their fellow Maasai tribal community members in 21 rural Tanzania communities as well as basic healthcare, emergency health services, and healthcare referral under the supervision of two government physicians they meet and communicate with regularly. Construction of a grain mill was completed in 2022 and operation began to generate income to provide sustainable stipend payments for approximately half of the community health workers. Construction of another grain mill is planned for 2023 to provide stipend payments for the remaining community health workers. Reproductive Health and Relationships Program (RHRP): This program provides comprehensive sexuality, relationship, and peace topic education as part of the normal curriculum to primary and secondary students in rural Tanzania to reduce schoolgirl pregnancies, sexually transmitted infections including HIV, and to protect children from sexual violence. The program began in 2019 with 10,554 students with weekly 40-minute instruction on a variety of topics. In October 2022, teacher training was conducted to add 37 schools with 20,343 students to the program. Water Projects: We provided district water engineering support for our four existing water sites on how to better manage their water assets and provide maintenance funds for the future. Sites and water committees supported were: Pangaro, Njiro, Nadururu, and Ruvu Darajani. Fair Trade / Vumwe Designs: In 2022, Vumwe Designs made significant strides in promoting fair trade practices and empowering women artisans in Tanzania. Our efforts included meticulous organization and management of inventory both in the United States and Tanzania, ensuring transparency and accountability throughout the supply chain. We actively participated in government events, showcasing the exceptional craftsmanship of our artisans and advocating for fair trade policies. Moreover, we had the honor of producing fabric for government officials' uniforms for a national event, highlighting the quality and skill behind our products. To cater to the holiday season, we introduced a special gift set featuring our handcrafted fabrics. Additionally, we expanded our reach beyond our user-friendly website by setting up an additional channel for online sales on the third-party marketplace site Etsy, allowing customers to easily browse and purchase our products online. We also set up a permanent online sale of gift cards on our website which creates additional sales and gift-giving opportunities throughout the year. Through these initiatives, Vumwe
